How to support your child at home

Encourage your child to be as independent as possible – taking off and putting on their own coat and shoes, making attempts at doing up zips and buttons, using the toilet, wiping, flushing and washing their hands and tidying away their own toys etc.

Share stories together, talking about what they can see on each page, what happened in the story and if they liked or disliked the book.

Practise counting in a variety of ways such as up and down stairs, place settings at the table etc.

Encourage lots of mark making eg writing cards, shopping lists, drawing/painting pictures etc.

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

We will continue with our independence doing lots of things for ourselves such as using the toilet, putting on our own coats and doing up our zips and learning to play with our friends. Our teachers will encourage us to explore all areas of the classroom and try a variety of new activities to help us build a vast range of skills.

This half term we will be focusing on Respect and our friend Rahim Respect will be there to help us ensure we make the right choices and remember that everybody is important and should be listened to and spoken to kindly.

Communication and Language

We will continue sharing stories and conversations this half term 1:1, in small groups and as a whole class.

Our teachers will be encouraging us to communicate with our friends, talking to them about ourselves, our families and our lives at home and during our play to share ideas of games and to solve conflicts.

We will be sharing stories that provide us with lots of opportunities to join in with repeated parts and will work hard to answer simple questions about the stories we have heard.

Physical Development

We will continue our focus of developing muscle strength and finger manipulation this half term through a variety of different activities both inside and out. We will have lots of opportunities to develop our abilities to use one handed tools such as scissors, hole punches, cutlery and scoops successfully.

Maths

This half term we will have great fun exploring a variety of different mathematical concepts such as weight, position and direction and floating and sinking. We will be discussing our daily routines, talking about what we do first, after and last when getting ready for school, during our day and at bedtime.

We will also continue with our recognition and understanding of numbers 1-5.

Literacy

This half term will be sharing some of our favourite stories together. We will spend time looking at the author Jill Murphy and a variety of the books she wrote as well as other best loved stories such as Dear Zoo and We're Going on a Bear Hunt.

Our early phonics journey continues with syllables this half term, looking at how many parts are in a word. We will practise clapping out the 'parts' (for example zeb-ra), organising words by how many 'parts' they have and listening for the onset sound in the syllable (c-at, st-op).

A variety of mark making activities will be available in our classroom environment and our teachers will ask us what our marks mean giving us the opportunity to talk about what we have written.

Understanding the World

We will celebrate Chinese New Year this half term learning about the year of the Dragon and explore the different traditions along side this celebration.

Through our focus texts we will spend time looking at a variety of animals and will explore their different habitats.

Expressive Arts and Design

Our teachers will be encouraging us to develop and stretch our imagination this half term by using a wide range of resources and mediums such as paint, junk modelling, playdoh, chalk and collage.

We will have opportunities to learn new songs and express our creativity through movement and dance and with the use of instruments.
